

Progression Routes - Humanities, 2024-25

Glasgow School of Art, Royal Conservatoire of Scotland and SRUC

- These progression routes are for students studying on Humanities programmes including Access to Humanities, Primary Education, Social Work and Law, Business and Finance.

Scottish Wider
Access Programme

University	Information and advice
Glasgow School of Art	GSA warmly welcomes applications from adult returners. There is a wide range of degrees available. Please check the web site at: http://www.gsa.ac.uk/study/undergraduate-degrees/ If considering a degree at GSA please contact the SWAP office as soon as possible so we can discuss the option with GSA. In most circumstances a portfolio requires to be prepared and it is advantageous to speak to GSA at an early a stage as possible.
Royal Conservatoire of Scotland	The RCS warmly welcomes applications from adult returners. There is a wide range of degrees available. From acting to technical production. Please check the web site at: https://www.rcs.ac.uk/undergraduate-courses/ If considering a degree at RCS please contact the SWAP office as soon as possible so we can discuss the option with RCS. Degrees are offered on the basis of audition, and applications are considered on the basis of talent, potential and ability.
Scotland's Rural College (SRUC)	SRUC offers a wide range of degrees. Please check a full list of degrees and courses at: https://www.sruc.ac.uk/study-with-us/find-apply-for-your-course/course-catalogue/ A number of these degrees are available from a humanities programme such as Environmental Management, Rural Business Management. In addition, as SRUC offer HNC options some of their science-based degrees can be considered from a social science programme. Please contact the SWAP office so we can check with SRUC if the programme you are studying fits. SRUC are a passionate advocate for adult returners so are very open to discussion. Progression is based on completing the programme and receiving a BBB profile.