

Your tutor sends your profile to SWAP East in June/July

SWAP East sends a copy of your profile to your firm choice institution and your insurance choice institution.

July-August: You will hear back directly from your first or second choice university (depending on your profile grades). If, for whatever reason, you are not accepted for your first or second choice place, you may have the option of using UCAS Extra or going through clearing. See you tutor or telephone SWAP. It is still highly likely you will get a place somewhere.

Your university welcome pack arrives in the post: July–early September

You can expect to receive your Freshers' welcome pack approx 5-7 working days after your chosen university has confirmed your place.

If you have not received your welcome pack, contact the university admissions office.

You may check all welcome pack information on the university freshers' week website. This includes the freshers' pass information.

Pre-registration: July-September

You can expect to receive a letter in the post with details of the university's online registration process around 2-3 weeks after we have confirmed your place at the university.

This letter provides your log-in details allowing you to pre-register online before you come to the campus.

If you have not received your log-in details, contact the registry. If you have received your log-in details but you are having difficulty logging in, there will be details of who to contact in your letter.

Your registration pack arrives in the post: July-September

You can expect to receive your registration pack in the post around 2-3 weeks after your place has been confirmed at the university

This packet provides important information on choosing courses.

If you have not received it, contact the faculty you will be studying in.

Advising appointments: July-September

You should receive either an advising appointment or an invitation to make your advising appointment 2-3 weeks after the university has confirmed your place.

You will receive specific details regarding this from your faculty.
